Four other alleged U.S. spies were sentenced to long prison terms-three of them for life.

The latest in a series of public executions, some of them televised, came as Premier Chou En-lai said the main opposition to Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung "has crumbled" and the situation in China "has never been so good as it is today."

Others Get Long Terms

Chou said support for President Liu Shao-chi, Mao's bitterest enemy in the cultural revolution power struggle, is dwindling and that the Red Army is solidly behind Mao.
